THE PEOPLE'S PROVIDERS.

Hilo's Greeting to the Mystic Shriners

The following address was prepared by the Hilo invitation committee to be presented to the Potentate by Rev. J. A. Cruzan:

To the visiting members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and their families.

Aloha.

(that's kanaka for how'd'y.)
Ke hookipa nei na Makaalana O Hilo, Hawaii, la oukou me ka pumehana e like me ke kanaka ma Dakota i hookipa aloha mai ai i ka pua mohala mua o ke kau kupulau.

The freedom of the city is yours, though the Scribe here of is constrained to say that the freedom doesn't amount to much because we haven't home rule. Such as it is, however, we are willing to divy up with you. We are glad you are here; doubly glad that you are not to be enrolled in the census of "also rans," who, when they start for Hilo, usually get stranded in Honolulu. We admire your judgment in coming here first. We offer you the freedom of our large and superior collection of extinct volcanoes; handle and examine them at your leisure, but leave them behind when you depart.

In order that you may have a taste of Hawaiian life, also the food, we have prepared a feast at which a hundred handmaidens of Hawaii shall feed, with deft fingers, into your mouths, and the well of Bacchus will be opened with a metal contrivance and cooled with the snows of Mauna Kea and the ice works. Allah be good!

We know little of the history and antecedents of your Order; the Nobles in Hilo have been too busy with other things to disseminate knowledge. We understand that one of your principal tenets is to have no money in the treasury. The Hawaiian Government is the same way, so we feel acquainted with you from the dropping of the flag.

Let us give you a few disinterested words of advice:

Don't use the sidewalks; they are on sacred ground. Take the middle of the road as do Hilo people.

Don't tell your troubles to a policeman; he is a timid and fawn-like creature and shies violently at the approach of strangers.

When you are thirsty do not, oh! do not hesitate; ask the first Hiloite you meet to show you where the town pump is, for he, also, is thirsty and knoweth the road thereto.

If you are disappointed when you see Hilo, cheer up. It's nothing to the way you will feel when you strike Honolulu.

At the ball to which you are invited you are to dance to your heart's content, but when you leave you are to leave the ladies to us. They are our joy and pride.

The city fathers, as well as their offspring suggest that you use due care while visiting Halemaumau. You have heard of people "walking on thin ice" and on the "edge of a volcano." Halemaumau is all of this and the earth yawns up there purposely for Shriners. When you cross the lava you will be reminded, perhaps, of your pilgrimage across the desert and you may have to "hold on to the rope." We of Hilo do not, as a whole, catch on to the expression, but it goes as well in Hawaii as in Arabia.

Let us say once more that you are thrice welcome to Hilo. Enjoy yourselves; the streets are narrow but there are no fence laws. Aloha."

The address is printed in red and black on heavily embossed paper and decorated in water colors by Mrs. F. W. Bosworth with sketches of scenery in the vicinity. The text is by W. H. Smith of the Tribune and a Herald scribe. The address takes up several pages and these are bound in red in the shape of a fez, the leaves being held together by a heavy cord and tassel.

BRIDGE IT.

In camp at Pretoria, Pat-Sure, General Roberts shows his Irish heart and the toime. D'ye know he wor thinkin' av his ould Dublin girl whin General Kitchener asked him how the Vaal river wor to be crast be th' army. Dennis—An' how d'ye know that same? Pat-Sure, bekase he turned his hid away absint-minded loffe and onis said, "Bridget."

PER S. S. AUSTRALIA.

Just landed a full line of grapes, apples, oranges, lemons, celery, cabbage, cauliflower, cranberries, burbank and red potatoes, dates, salmon, sounders, halibut, crabs, Eastern and California oysters (in tin and shell), turkeys, chickens, ducks, quail. A full line of canned goods. CAMARINOS' REFRIGERATOR.

The use of the Singer in millions of homes shows the unprecedented success of these ideal sewing machines. It is convincing proof that the Singer excels in all kinds of family sewing and art needle work. All our sewing machines are of the best construction, beautifully decorated, and are mounted on selected woods in finely finished cabinets of artistic design. B. Bergersen, agent, 16½ Bethel street.
